Traditional Model vs. Allied Wallet Model

Traditional model: register a Chinese domain with a third party and acquire Chinese hosting (time and money). You will then need to apply for an "Internet Content Provider (ICP) License." This license will eventually allow you to accept credit cards. Once granted a license, you could try to find a solution to enable sales in China - Solutions that will likely let you sell to Chinese consumers and only Chinese consumers. And what about the rest of your global profit? Get ahead and choose Allied Wallet, the processor that does it all.

Popular Chinese Goods/Services

China is the largest buyer of luxury goods in the world and it's not uncommon for people to save long term to purchase a fancy purse or wallet. Golf and are increasingly popular luxury hobbies as they are not easily accessible or affordable. These are items that could potentially be sold to Chinese consumers. The list of profitable goods even stems to more digital type items and services like e-books. Approximately 200 million Chinese people purchase e-books regularly. Are you ready to offer new goods to Chinese consumers?
